Bitsrent Limitada ("us", "we", or "our") operates the <https://www.bitsrent.com> website (the "Service").

This page informs you of our policies regarding the collection, use, and disclosure of personal data when you use our Service and the choices you have associated with that data.

We use your data to provide and improve the Service. By using the Service, you agree to the collection and use of information in accordance with this policy. Introduction Blockchain technology, also known as distributed ledger technology (or simply 'DLT'), is at the core of our business. Blockchains are decentralized and made up of digitally recorded data in a chain of packages called 'blocks'. The manner in which these blocks are linked is chronological, meaning that the data is very difficult to alter once recorded. Since the ledger may be distributed all over the world (across several 'nodes' which usually replicate the ledger) this means there is no single person making decisions or otherwise administering the system (such as an operator of a cloud computing system), and that there is no centralized place where it is located either.

Accordingly, by design, a blockchains records cannot be changed or deleted and is said to be 'immutable'. This may affect your ability to exercise your rights such as your right to erasure ('right to be forgotten'), or your rights to object or restrict processing, of your personal data. Data on the blockchain cannot be erased and cannot be changed. Although smart contracts may be used to revoke certain access rights, and some content may be made invisible to others, it is not deleted.

In certain circumstances, in order to comply with our contractual obligations to you (such as delivery of tokens) it will be necessary to write certain personal data, such as your Ethereum or other cryptocurrency wallet address, onto the blockchain; this is done through a smart contract and requires you to execute such transactions using your wallet's private key.

In most cases ultimate decisions to

- (i) transact on the blockchain using your Ethereum or other cryptocurrency wallet address, as well as
- (ii) share the public key relating to your Ethereum or other cryptocurrency wallet address with anyone (including us) rests with you.

If you want to ensure your privacy rights are not affected in any way, you should not transact on blockchains as certain rights may not be fully available or exercisable by you or us due to the technological infrastructure of the blockchain. In particular the blockchain is available to the public and any personal data shared on the blockchain will become publicly available.
